Open Street Fest marred by incidents of molestation

Complaints pour in from victims but cops claim no footage of incidents

Mysuru, Oct.17- The controversy over the treatment meted out to women and girls by unruly elements at the Open Street Festival on Oct.13 refuses to die down as more and more women have taken to the social media to express their anguish and anger at the arrangements made by the authorities concerned.

SOM Office was flooded with calls and emails yesterday from many women and girls over the outrage and molestation they had allegedly experienced.

(See FEST on page 12)

Wrong Police strategy?

Many women alleged that the Police and the Organisers made strategic mistakes while hosting the Open Street Fest. First they said that the lights did not come even after it was dark giving perverts the much needed cover of darkness to carry out their dark acts.

Secondly, they said that the Police should have blocked the entry of people to the Street Fest at 8 pm itself as the Yuva Dasara was starting nearby.

Thirdly, the Police did not shut down shops and so people continued to throng the venue. And to add to the confusion, the Police in order to signal that the fest was over, turned off the lights which made it even worse. Finally, they said Police personnel were not easily visible or accessible for the victims to approach.

Why Street Fest on Yuva Dasara and near it?

Many asked, if Police cannot handle a Street Fest why have it on the same day as the Yuva Dasara and also why on the road that leads to Maharaja's Grounds where Yuva Dasara is held?

Retired, but not tired

Governments and companies in the corporate sector follow the practice of parting company with staff as they reach the pre-determined age of superannuation. The idiom that retirement on reaching that age and death are a certainty that nobody can dodge is often heard in the circles of staff taking leave of their respective organisations. Extension of tenure and re-employment of superannuated staff, being more an exception than routine, due to certain exigencies, such as delay in filling the gap in staff strength at the hierarchical level of the retiree or indispensability of the outgoing staff or other extraneous factors, including favouritism based on all-too-familiar clout are unmistakable recognition of the individual's efficiency and work ethics as perceived by the authorities concerned. The flock among the staff allowed to take leave on the dot, even after the usual farewell party have reason to be happy if their co-workers don't ask the question: "When are you going?" instead of the question: "Why are you going away?" The fact remains that even those with extended tenure and also re-employed have to go. The inevitable is only put off.

Workaholics and laggards, after years of being together during their work-life carry home memories of both good times marked by unsullied relationship and occasions best forgotten. It is said that some persons make themselves welcomed wherever they go and others whenever they go. A new chapter begins at the home of the retirees which makes a fascinating study, each retiree telling a different story.

Self-assessment of one's work-life and rating by others generates thoughts on whether retirement is a dreaded event or otherwise. While the ambience left behind in the workplace by the retiree may be haunting for a while, that in the home-front is more important to focus upon. Economic health and physical fitness of the retiree become features keenly observed by the respective better half. Life is bound to be hunky-dory if the retiree walks into his abode in good cheer with adequate ready cash at command and free from any worrisome affliction. The case of those who are not that fortunate cannot be described in words. Also, while the headcount of those who retire with various post-retirement benefits such as an alluring pension, provident fund, leave encashment and so on is a small fraction of the total population of the country's workforce, the issues of the rest can be mind-boggling.

To be engaged in any economic activity of one's ability and relish is a bliss and a reward for those who may retire as ordained but take care to remain without tiring, mentally as well as physically. The classical grandmothers in our society are known to be tireless and selfless workaholics, being embodiment of service with a smile.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India's middle class, supported by many opposition parties, wants a cut in fuel taxes to stem the sharp rise in petrol and diesel prices. This would be wrong for several reasons. The same political and middle classes claim they want to check the threat of climate change. But cutting fuel taxes will encourage the consumption of petroleum products, increasing carbon emissions that warm the globe. Instead, the logical way forward is a high tax on all forms of carbon, making this revenue-neutral by cutting taxes on other items. That will discourage carbon emissions without affecting tax revenue, which is needed for infrastructure and essential social spending. This will be a wise climate precaution even if the global warming threat turns out to be exaggerated. Three other major reasons justify exceptionally high taxes on oil products. First, they are polluting, and have helped convert many cities into death-traps. Second, they are non-renewable, and a high tax helps conservation. Third, oil is by far the biggest import item and threatens to rise exponentially as India develops and urbanises. — Swaminathan S. Anklesaria Aiyar in The Times of India.

Real-life "Joker" terrorises English town

Nottinghamshire: A want to be 'killer clown,' dressed like popular Batman villain 'The Joker' was recently jailed for terrorising the people of Nottinghamshire, in England, for three months.

29-year-old Damien Hammond, a homeless and jobless man who styled himself like Heath Ledger's character in the hit movie The Dark Knight Rises, has been jailed for 22 weeks and banned from Nottingham for three years, after going on a three-month crime spree just a few miles from the real-life Gotham village.

Hammond, who is well known around Nottingham for his obsession with The Joker, reportedly pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct towards staff in various retail stores, waving a gun-shaped cigarette lighter while standing in traffic, and striking a Police officer, among other charges. After hearing his sentence, the accused, who showed up to Court with bright green hair, said "Send me to prison, I don't care".

Now 'Sleep Remuneration' for workforce

Tokyo: Tokyo-based wedding planning company named CRAZY, recently announced the implementation of a 'sleep remuneration system' to encourage its workforce to get more sleep. Workers who install the Sleep Analysis app on their smartphones and share their data with the company are eligible to receive points according to how many hours of sleep they get ever night.

All employees have to do is place their smartphones by their beds and start the Airweave Sleep Analysis app, and it will take care of the rest. If they manage to a minimum of 6 hours of sleep per night, for at lest five days a week, they stand to earn hundreds of points that can be converted into yen (100 points = 100 yen) at the cafeterias and cafes in the CRAZY office building.

VOICE OF THE READER

Why re-name "University of Mysore"?

Sir,

Recently, our Chief Minister spoke about re-naming the century-old "University of Mysore" as "Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar University."

I think politicians have to think twice before uttering on any subject. One should know the value of the existing name before re-naming it.

It need not be said how much we respect the late Nalwadi, the architect of modern Mysore. We Mysureans admire the erstwhile Kingdom of Mysore and the service rendered by the Kings in those days. Mysore, now Mysuru, has become an attractive city due to the foresight of the Maharajas.

The name "University of Mysore" was given by the erstwhile King of Mysore himself ! The name was loved by the King. By trying to re-name it, are we not insulting the King ?

Since its birth, lakhs of students have passed out of this century-old University and have spread its name, not just across India, but across the world.

Our CM should not allow for re-naming the Varsity at all. If possible, let a new University be opened in the name of Nalwadi. We all will welcome it wholeheartedly.

KRS glows with 3D lights

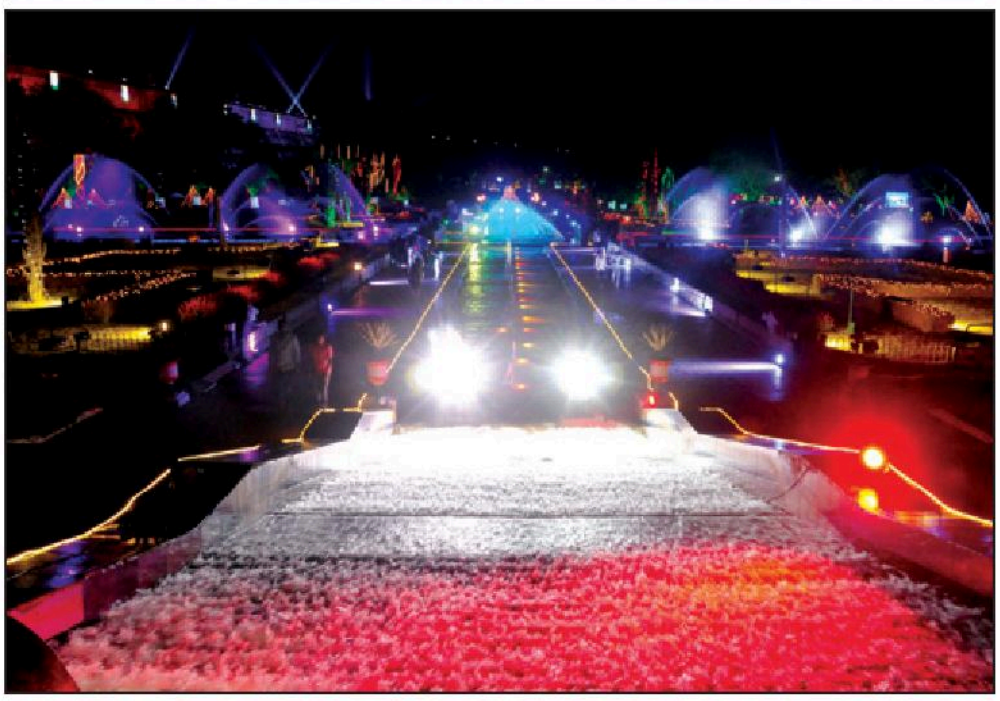
A dance troupe performing on a floating stage set up in the boating pond at Brindavan Gardens yesterday. Picture below shows 3D projection mapping.



Mysuru, Oct.17 (RK&BCT)- It was an altogether different world that was marked by colourful lighting explaining the history of Mysuru and Mandya, contributions of Wadiyars and people like Sir Mirza Ismail and Sir M. Visvesvaraya — all through lightings with associated imagery and its verdant colours. The lights were projected on water and concrete structures as people cheered on top of their voice.

The venue was Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam where 3D projection mapping and other special lighting arrangements were made last evening. The show will continue for eight more days. People danced as bright lights with all its hues electrified the concrete structures and they enjoyed every moment of it as lights (carrying the theme VIBGYOR) were splashed on water.

The show has been organised by Mandya District Administration and Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) to attract tourists and the organisers were not disappointed as it pulled in many visitors indicating that the 3D mapping will be one of the major tourist attractions at KRS Dam till Oct.24. The projection brought alive the KRS Dam structure through video display just like the Sound and Light show.

The CNNL has awarded the contract of 3D projection mapping at KRS to Bengaluru-based DNA Entertainment Networks Pvt. Ltd., one of the international event management companies. The event was inaugurated by Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy. Every day, the show will be held from 6 pm to 8.30 pm.

A part of the Dam structure was illuminated and flood lights were flashed from the top. As the lights were focused on water, it reflected that particular colour, creating bright waves. Cultural programmes were performed on a floating stage set up in the boating pond at Brindavan Gardens.

Elephantine Make-up

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Oct. 17- The Nada Habba (Dasara) celebrations is a vibrant assortment of cultural events and procession, but it is truly incomplete without the majestic Jumboo Savari.

For the last fifteen years, Hunsur-based make-up artist and art teacher, Nagalingappa Chandrappa Badiger has been embellishing all the 12 elephants that take part in Mysuru's famous Jumboo Savari.

The make-up artist also embellishes the leader of the elephant group, the one and only Arjuna, who is given the responsibility of carrying the coveted 750-kg Golden Howdah. Since six years, Arjuna and his troupe have never failed to mesmerise the spectators with their majestic walk with costumes and facial charisma.

Nagalingappa is currently working as a Fine Arts teacher at Panchavalli Government School of Periyapatna Taluk, Mysuru. In spite of holding a full-time job, he has been keeping the tradition of "decorating" these majestic elephants during Dasara fest.

Nagalingappa Badiger basically hails from Kurthakoti village of Gadag district and holds a Diploma in Drawing and Painting. He received the job offer of decorating the Dasara elephants, while he was working as an Art teacher at Vyjayanthi Art School and since then, he has been continuing his amazing work of beautifying the Dasara elephants with the support of his brothers Arun and Narayan, maternal Uncle Ravindra and his associates Madhusudan and Lokesh.

"Painting, drawing and facial make-up for these gentle giants is not an easy task. It is an arduous job to draw and paint them as they generally don't stand still while the art work is being carried out. The elephants keep moving around, raising their huge trunks and twitching their giant ears and tiny tails while drawing and colouring them," says Nagalingappa Badiger.

He and his five associates caught the attention of the public recently, with their aesthetically-alluring makeup they had done to the elephants for the Cultural Procession.

On the day of Vijayadashami, the elephants bring an extra zest of life and colour to Mysuru Dasara with bright paintings and vibrant art-work adorning their trunks, giant ears and limbs. The paintings and art-work usually represent the colour, ethnicities and culture of the land.

The make-up artists draw pictures of Shankha (conch), Chakra (the weapon of Lord Krishna) on the ears of the elephants. The trunk is adorned with pictures of Gandabherunda (two-headed mythological bird) and other pictures of leaves, flowers, buds and creepers.

The rear portion of the elephants are further beautified with pictures of parrots and snakes that are usually the size and the length of the elephant's tail. The religious symbol of the three Shiva Namas (three horizontal lines) and other circular drawings adorn the elephants' forehead. Various beautiful sketches are drawn on the other body parts of the elephants, purely to enhance the exquisiteness of the elephants, as they take to the streets on the day of Vijayadashami.

WATER PAINTS: The make-up artists use water paints to draw the pictures and illustrations to ensure that the art-work do not cause any skin irritation or skin damage to the elephants. For this grand occasion, the elephants also get their nails done with bright golden colours. To achieve a 2D effect, the artists use chemical-free bright colours (white, red, green, yellow, orange) for the illustrations.

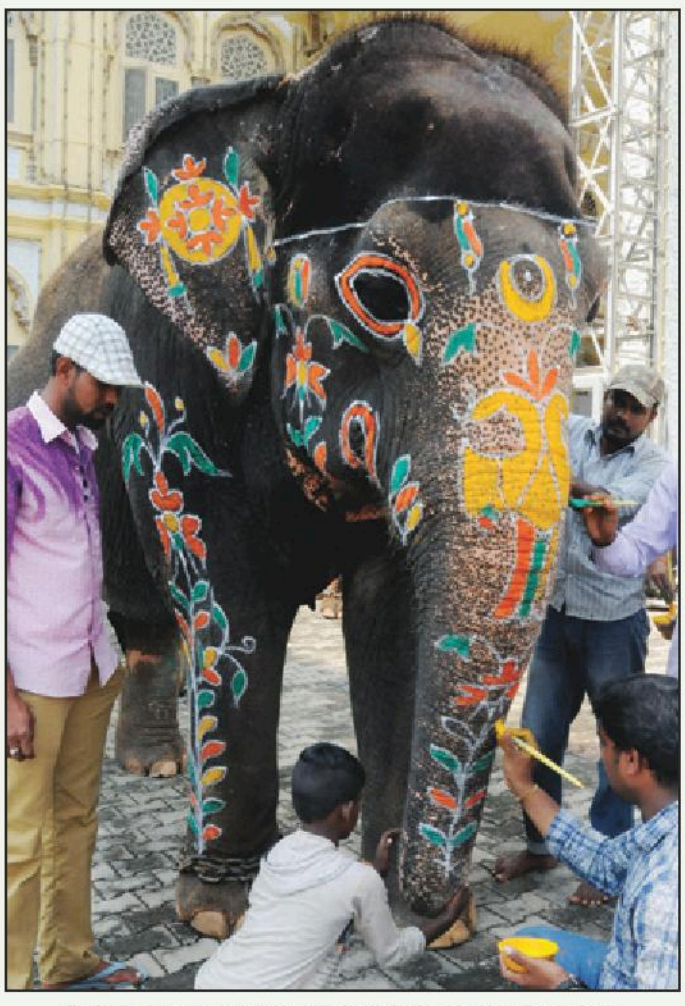
Palace Elephants too get touch-up



Palace elephant Preethi getting a coat of colours.

Other than the 12 Dasara elephants, there are six female elephants, which belong to the Mysore Palace. Mysuru-based make-up artist Raju has been adorning the six female elephants Ruby, Seetha, Chanchala and Preethi during the Dasara festivities for the last few years. Another artist Arun decorates Vikrama, the Pattada Aane (Royal Elephant) and Gopi, the Nishaane Aane (Lead Elephant).

The artistic works of Nagalingappa, Arun and Raju for the Dasara elephants and the Palace Elephants have received wide appreciation from the people.

NCC tableau in Dasara procession

Mysuru, Oct.17- For the first time, the tableau of Mysuru Group of the National Cadet Corps (NCC), Karnataka and Goa Directorate, will be a part of Dasara procession on Oct. 19. The tableau will depict the activities of all three wings of the NCC — the Army, the Navy and the Air Force. Adventure activities such as Para-Sailing, Microlight Aircraft Flying and Slithering down an airborne helicopter and Sailing are being depicted in the tableau.

The Mysuru Group of the Karnataka and Goa Directorate has 10,000 cadets on its rolls and plays a large part in shaping the youth of five districts of the State which include Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan, Chikmagalur and Chamarajanagar.

The cadets will also take part in a march past in which the NCC contingents of the Army, Navy and Air Force will participate. The National Cadet Corps, set up in 1948, now has 13 lakh cadets all over the country, which in fact is more than the total strength of the regular Army.

Cadets take part in various events such as Combined Annual Training Camps, National Integration Camps, Parachute Jump Training Camp, Hospital Attachments, Army, Navy and Air Force Attachment Camps, Trekking Camps as also Social Service and Community Development activities like Swachh Bharat, International Youth Day, World Anti Tobacco Day etc., according to Col. M.S. Ravindranath, Training Officer, NCC, Mysuru Group.

Colourful start to three-day Grand Srirangapatna Dasara

Dasara in Fort Town began before Mysore Dasara way back in 1610

Srirangapatna, Oct. 17 (BCT)- The historical three-day Srirangapatna Dasara was celebrated in a grand manner yesterday. Thousands of people, including commuters from Mysuru to Bengaluru, were a witness to the gala event as the Jumboo Savari, accompanied by folk troupes, passed through the main thoroughfares of the Fort Town.

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy inaugurated the event by offering flowers to the idol of Goddess Chamundeshwari placed in a wooden Ambari on the caparisoned elephant Abhimanyu at Bannimantap near Kiranguru Circle off Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway. Accompanying Abhimanyu were Varalakshmi and Cauvery. The elephants were sent to Srirangapatna by Mysuru Dasara Committee. Ministers C.S. Puttaraju, D.C. Thammanna, Bandeppa Kashampur, MLAs M. Srinivas, Suresh Gowda, MLC Appaji Gowda and film director T.S. Nagabharana accompanied the CM. MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah and his wife performed Banni puja. Later, Chamundeshwari puja, Nandi Dhwaja Puja, Ganesha and Gaja pujas were performed.

The procession passed through Kiranguru, Baburayanakoppalu, Bengaluru-Mysuru Highway, Kuvempu Circle, Bypass Road opposite Jamia Masjid, Rajabeedhi, Ambedkar Circle, and Mini Vidhana Soudha to reach Sri Ranganathaswamy temple. Hundreds of people gathered on both sides of the roads and atop the buildings to have a glimpse of the procession.

The procession comprised cultural troupes, tableaux, horse-driven chariots, bullock carts and others. Hundreds of artistes from nearly 30 troupes participated. The folk troupes included Pattada Kunitha, Veerabhadra Kunitha, Garudi Gombe, Keelu Kudure, Maragaalu, Dollu Kunitha, Jaggalagi Mela, Huli Vesha, Charmavadya, Nandi Kolu and dance forms like Kathakkali of Kerala and Kudiyara Nritya.

Many artistes dressed up as Nalwadi, Kempegowda and Sir MV participated in the colourful procession. Several tableaux like Women and Child Development Department's tableau on 'Child marriage' tableaux of Sericulture Department, Panchayat Raj, Agriculture, Police and Health Departments attracted the cheering crowds. Indian Buddha Mahasabha displayed Buddha's picture with the theme 'Yuddha beda Buddha beku'.

Tourist places such as KRS dam, Brindavan Gardens and Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary and historical monuments at Srirangapatna have been illuminated.

Cultural events

Today evening, stand-up comedian and litterateur Prof. Krishnegowda will inaugurate cultural events. Music director and comedian Sadhu Kokila, music director Satish Aryan, local musician Anuradha Bhat and her team will entertain the gathering.

Gopi and team will perform mimicry, Kannada playback singers Rajesh Krishnan, Shamitha Malnad, Supriya Lohith and Purushotham, too will perform. On Oct. 18 at 4 pm, litterateur Dr. Latha Rajashekhar will inaugurate the valedictory function which will conclude with a 'Dasara Star Night.'

Illustrious History

Srirangapatna Dasara is as significant as Mysuru Dasara since Mysuru Dasara was originally started in Srirangapatna in 1610 by Raja Wadiyar I. It shifted to Mysuru only in 1799 when the capital was shifted back to Mysuru after the fall of Tipu Sultan in the Fourth Anglo-Mysore War. Dasara festivities in Srirangapatna have an illustrious history of over four centuries and it was first celebrated there by Raja Wadiyar as Victory Parade after he conquered Srirangapatna, then called historically called as Seringapatam, from Srirangaraya in 1610. Srirangapatna was the capital of Mysuru then. Despite being historically significant, the Srirangapatna Dasara was kept as a low-key affair when compared to Mysuru Dasara. The celebrations were even stopped for some years but were revived by Mandya District Administration in 2007.

Dasara procession to have 42 tableaux

Bylakuppe's Golden Temple and a tableau on Karnataka Universities added attraction

Mysuru, Oct.17- This year's Dasara procession on Oct.19 will be all the more attractive with the participation of 42 tableaux. Addressing a press meet at ZP Hall here yesterday, Dasara Tableaux Sub-Committee Deputy Special Officer K.B. Prabhuswamy said that tableaux are getting ready covering all the 30 districts of the State.

For the first time, the Department of Higher Education has come up with a tableau on the journey of Universities in the State, he said pointing out that more than 150 artists were on the job of finishing the tableaux and all of them were expected to be ready by Thursday for the show. Prabhuswamy said all the districts are participating in the procession with their tableaux on different themes.

Noting that last year 40 tableaux were part of the procession and the number this year has gone up by two, he said that Bylakuppe's Golden Temple is the tableaux from Mysuru district.

Stating that steps had been taken to avoid repetition of tableaux in the procession this year, he said that although in some cases the theme may be the same, the content will be different as in the case of Anubhava Mantapa.

He further said that the top three tableaux will get a prize of Rs. 30,000, Rs. 20,000 and Rs. 10,000 respectively besides trophies. All the participants will get certificates.

A 3-member panel of judges from the city's CAVA has been appointed to identify the top three tableaux, he said.

The tableaux will also feature flood-affected people in Kodagu, the National Cadet Corps (NCC), 'My Vote My Right' on voter awareness by the SVEEP office of Mysuru and on Legal Services by the Mysuru District Legal Services Authority, Prabhuswamy added.

Vajramushti Kalaga to herald Dasara procession

The four Jattis, Mysuru's Manjunath Jatti, Channapatna's Vidyadara Jatti, Bengaluru's Raghavendra Jatti and Chamarajanagar's Purshothamma Jatti who will participate in the Vajramushti Kalaga seen with Mysore Palace in the background.

Mysuru, Oct.17 (MTY&NNN)-The centuries old tradition of Vajramushti Kalaga will herald the Dasara procession on Oct.19. The tradition has it that when two Jattis wearing the Vajramushti wrestle and the moment the blood is drawn on the head of one of the wrestlers, it signals the start of Dasara Procession, later on that day.

The Vajramushti Kalaga will be held between 9 am and 9.30 am at the Kannadi Thotti in the Mysore Palace premises when two pairs of wrestlers join in the bout.

All arrangements have been made for the Vajramushti Kalaga. This year Mysuru's Manjunath Jetty and Channapatna's Vidyadara Jetty and Bengaluru's Raghavendra Jetty and Chamarajanagar's Purshotham Jetty will wrestle one another.

Yesterday afternoon, the elder Ustads set the stage for the kalaga by pairing the wrestlers at the Gayathridevi Temple premises in Mysore Palace.

It is a unique feature that Vajramushti Kalaga always happens between wrestlers of four districts. The Jatti community is confined to the four districts of Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Bengaluru and Channapatna.

Ustads who pair: Ustads from the Jatti community include Mysuru's Dashamandi Srinivas Jatti, Tiger Balaji, Madhav Jatti, Ustad, Chamarajanagar's Bangaru Jatti, Bengaluru's Krishna Jatti, Channapatna's Ustad Purshottham and others who after much discussion selected the four Jattis.

Jattis hail from Gujarat

There are Jattis living in Gujarat.The Jatti community hails from Delmal near Ahmedabad. There is Nimbujamba temple there too. They also have a Garadi there. "For various reasons, our ancestors migrated from there to Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh. Our elders grew up under the patronage of the Mysore royals. Since then this Vajramushti Kalaga is being held," said Dashamandi Srinivas Jatti.

"Only after a drop of blood is drawn in this Kalaga will the Jamboo Savari (elephant procession) begin. We hold this fight in order to invoke the blessings for the welfare of the royal family," he added.

The Jattis who participate in the Kalaga have to follow a strict regime. They wear the Mushti (diamond-studded knuckles) in the hand and try to hit the head with it. At least a drop of blood has to come from the head of one of the Jattis. At times it takes just one or two minutes for the blood to ooze out and sometimes it may even take five minutes.

They also charged that inspite of Police personnel being present they were just mute spectators to the goings on instead of taking action. As a result many boys became brazen and molested and touched them inappropriately. One woman claimed that foreign tourists who had come to see the fest were also not spared.

Police Commissioner clarifies

The Police had made elaborate security arrangements for the Open Street Festival organised by the District Administration. However, the number of people was more than anticipated.

In a change of stance, the Police Commissioner who had stated that only four women had tweeted about molestation suggesting it was not a major issue, has today said the Police is viewing these complaints very seriously. The Commissioner also said that if anyone comes forward to lodge a complaint it will be registered.

No complaints yet

In a press release, the Commissioner said that not a single complaint was registered on that day either with the Police Officers present or at the Police Help Desk at the venue of the festival or in the Police Stations regarding the molestation and other charges.

He also added that after they heard about cases of molestation the Police looked into over 100 video footages and found no such incidents.

Meanwhile, when some of the women were asked why they were not registering complaints, as the Police can act only if there are complaints lodged, they said that they were not sure where to lodge the complaints and also were sceptical Police would act effectively.

Organisers, Police say they took precaution

The Commissioner said that they were prepared for the event by deploying various types of CCTV cameras, drones and even setting up a Mobile Command Centre. Apart from this they had deployed 375 Police personnel and three Assistant Commissioner's of Police, nine Police Inspectors, five Sub Inspectors, 19 Assistant Police Sub-Inspectors, 109 Head Constables and Constables, 36 women Police and 20 Home Guards.

There were also three platoons of Karnataka State Reserve Police and one City Armed Reserve platoon. More importantly they were also 40 Policemen from the City Crime Branch in plain clothes.

Gaadhi, Namdha preparations for Howdah-Elephant in full swing

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

As the countdown to the historic Jumboo Savaari (Vijayadashami procession) begins, the Gaadhi (cushion) and Namdha (thick decorative rug) preparations have also begun. The Gaadhi acts as cushion to Arjuna, the lead elephant, who will carry the coveted 750-kilogram Golden Howdah on his back during the Jumboo Savaari procession this Dasara. The Gaadhi will make life smoother for the Howdah-Elephant, as he marches with his troupe from Mysore Palace to Bannimantap Grounds on the Dasara procession day on Oct.19.

Retired mahouts and skilled Gaadhi and Namdha makers, Zakaulla and Pasha are currently preparing the Gaadhi at Someshwara Temple premises in the Palace. They are using their skills to prepare the cushion of the Howdah Elephant, Arjuna who himself weighs more than 6,350 kgs.

The Gaadhi and Namdha preparation is an old tradition that has been carried out since the erstwhile Maharaja days. The Gaadhis and Namdhas act as relief-agents for Arjuna, the Howdah Elephant, making his march easy and comfortable. Because of the cushion and the woollen rug, the Howdah Elephant is able to march through the 5-km stretch without any discomfort or injury.

Even during the rehearsals and route-familiarisation exercises with the sand bags and wooden howdah, the Gaadhis and Namdhas are used on the Howdah elephant to avoid any mishaps or injuries. This Dasara, great care is being taken to ensure that all precautionary measures are carried out diligently towards the safety and well-being of the Howdah Elephant.

Mahouts, Zakaulla and Pasha have been preparing the Gaadhi and Namdha for the last 13 years during the Dasara festival. Preparing the Gaadhis and Namdhas is a rare skill that Zakaulla and Pasha Gaadhi have acquired from their ancestors. This tradition has been kept alive with one generation passing this skill to the next one. Zakaulla and Pasha have retired from mahout duties, after serving and caring for the elephants, Chaitra and Sarala for many years. Pasha now works as a special mahout for the Dasara elephants in the forest department.

These ex-mahouts prepare the Gaadhis and Namdhas using Papyrus grass (Cyperus Papyrus), a grass that usually thrives in lakes, tanks, and other water bodies.

Pasha (extreme left) and Zakaulla readying the Gaadhi as Veterinary Assistant Rangaraju and Forest staffer Kumar look on.

The mahouts would collect the grass from the water bodies, dry it out under the sun for a period of 20-30 days, and then use the grass for the Gaadhi and Namdha preparations accordingly.

The Gaadhis are usually six-foot in length and five-foot in width. The mahouts ensure that the Gaadhis can be adjusted with the Howdah and there are no chances of mishap when the elephant carries the Howdah on its back. Gunny bags are filled with the water-resistant grass in a circular fashion and then prepared like a pillow to make the final product, the Gaadhis. The Namdhas are also readied like pillows by using coconut coir.

> The Gaadhi and Namdha will act as a cushion for the Howdah-Elephant as there are chances of injuries, while mounting and tying the Golden Howdah on the elephant's back during the Jumboo Savaari procession and other related rehearsal events. This is a tradition which we have continued to this day.
> —Dr. D.N. Nagaraj, Veterinarian

After mounting the Gaadhi and Namdha on the back of the Howdah Elephant, the mahouts would then decorate the cushion strap with ornamental clothes.

Unscientific road widening works posing threat to motorists near Tipu Circle

The gap between the newly-installed road dividers and the old one which was posing threat to motorists. Picture right shows barricades placed between the gap this morning.

Mysuru, Oct. 17 (MTY&KS) - The road widening works taken up from Fountain Circle near Jeelani Petrol Bunk up to the Old Toll Gate near Columbia Asia Hospital is going on in a snail's pace and the construction of road dividers near Tipu Circle is unscientific and has been stopped halfway, inviting accidents.

The highway from Mysore-Bengaluru Outer Ring Road junction till the Old Toll Gate is developed into a six-lane track and the Public Works Department (PWD) has taken up the works of developing the road from the Old Toll Gate to the Fountain Circle into a six-lane stretch at a cost of Rs. 14.7 crore. The works were taken up in 2017. Of this, Rs. 5.50 crore is being spent on electrification and though a year has passed, the works are not completed. The delay in works has drawn flak from the public.

Works pertaining to shifting of underground telephone cables, underground sewage and drinking water pipeline have been undertaken. The old road dividers on the stretch of Road from Fountain Circle are being replaced by concrete dividers and the works have come to a standstill near Tipu Circle without connecting it further.

There was a gap of about five-to-six feet between the new road dividers and Tipu Circle and the road used to lead straight to the concrete structure connecting the circle which was posing danger to motorists.

About six vehicles had crashed into the concrete structure since last 15 days especially during night time. This particular stretch of road is used by thousands of motorists who travel towards Bengaluru. With Dasara festivities going on in city, vehicular traffic on this stretch of road has increased further as large number of tourists are coming to city to take part in Dasara events and to witness the grand finale, the Jumboo Savari and the Dasara Torchlight Parade.

This apart, the old road dividers from Tipu Circle towards LIC Circle are removed leaving a trench-like gap between the roads which get filled with water during rain making it difficult for motorists to identify the trench.

Meanwhile, a few shopkeepers and residents of Bada Makhan, told SOM that when they asked the officials at the spot when would they take up the remaining works, the officials blamed the trees being an obstacle to complete the road widening works. The residents and shopkeepers further said that why should the trees become the victims for developmental works. Can't the officials find out ways to retain the trees and complete the works? Why such beautiful and magnificent trees which provide shelter to birds and also human beings have to be chopped off? they questioned.

"There is a need to chop some trees to take up road widening works and we have sought permission from the Forest Department. Once the permission is given, trees would be chopped down and the works would be completed. An inspection of the works near Tipu Circle would be taken up and warning signs would be installed to warn motorists" said Raju, PWD Assistant Executive Engineer

Following publication of this news in Mysooru Mithra (the sister concern of Star of Mysore), the officials concerned, conducted a spot inspection yesterday and have installed barricades to prevent motorists from crashing into the concrete structure.

Poll code coming in way of Hinkal Flyover inauguration?

By S.T. Ravikumar

Mysuru, Oct.17- Although the works on Hinkal Flyover is almost complete, it seems that its inauguration may be delayed further because of the model code of conduct that has come into force following the announcement of by-polls schedule for the three Lok Sabha and two Assembly constituencies in the State.

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, in a bid to get this vital Flyover inaugurated by Dasara, had put in all his efforts to expedite the project, which was started over two years ago.

The Hinkal Flyover, the first one in the city, is constructed at a cost of Rs.15.83 crore with the works on the project commencing on June 22, 2016. The 4-lane Flyover is 510 meters long and 17.20 meters wide, with 1.20 meter central medium.

Although MUDA officials took great pains to successfully complete the works, the delay in the inauguration due to the poll code in force, has caused agony among the MP and the officials.

MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaj and Superintending Engineer B.K. Suresh Babu had apprised Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and District Minister G.T. Devegowda when the two were in the city for Dasara inauguration.

Kantharaj said that with poll code in force, CM has asked MUDA to complete all remaining minor works, such as asphalting, lane marking, painting of streets, and installing street lights and keep the Flyover ready for inauguration once the poll code comes to an end after the first week of November.

The District Minister too has said that the inauguration date will be finalised once the Poll code is lifted after the announcement of by-poll results on Nov.6.

The Rs.15.83 crore project has been executed under Jawaharlal Nehru National Urban Renewal Mission (JnNURM) scheme, with the Centre funding 60 percent, the State Government and MUDA 20% each.

Once the Flyover at Hinkal Junction is opened for traffic, it will ease traffic movement on the ever-busy Mysuru-Hunsur Road, with vehicular density on the State Highway increasing by the day.

Meanwhile, even as the Hinkal Flyover is almost complete, the MUDA is all set to dump three other Flyovers (grade separators) sanctioned to the city at three different points.

Following a MUDA proposal to construct four grade separators at different points in the city to ease traffic congestion, the Centre, after scrutinising the proposal had given its nod and had also guaranteed 60 % funding for the project. Following the Centre's approval, the MUDA designed the grade separators with technical specifications.

The grade separators were proposed to come up at Columbia Asia Hospital Junction on Mysuru-Bengaluru Road, at Hotel Royal Inn Junction on KRS Road at Hinkal Junction on Hunsur Road and at JSS College Junction on Nanjangud Road. But barring the one at Hinkal, the three other projects were shelved for different reasons.

While the Flyover (grade separator) at Columbia Asia Hospital Junction was shelved due to the 10-laning of Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway, the one proposed at Hotel Royal Inn Junction was shelved because of a Railway Crossing coming in the way close to the Junction and one at the JSS College Junction on Nanjangud Road was shelved due to various hurdles in land acquisition.

With the shelving of these three flyovers, the Hinkal Flyover becomes the only one in the city for now.

WORD OF THE DAY

Rodomontade

Pronunciation: rah-duh-mun-TAYD
Meaning: A bragging speech; vain boasting or bluster: rant.

Origin: Rodomontade (which can also be spelled rhodomontade) originated in Italian poetry. Rodomonte was a fierce and boastful king in Orlando Innamorato, Count Matteo M. Boiardo's late 15th century epic, and later in the 1516 sequel Orlando Furioso, written by poet Lodovico Ariosto. In the late 16th century, English speakers began to use rodomont as a noun meaning "braggart." Soon afterwards, rodomontade entered the language as a noun meaning "empty bluster" or "bragging speech," and later as an adjective meaning "boastful" or "ranting."
Example: The corrupting effect the vogue for macho rodomontade may have even upon a civilized man.

THE ODD WORD

Scofflaw

A person who flouts the law.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

To be a big cheese

Meaning: An important person in a company or an organisation with a lot of influence.

Origin: Cheese has always been associated with being smelly but delicious, never with being big or important (despite some cheeses being of very high quality). The origins of this idiom come from the US. When cheese was first imported into North America, it immediately became very popular and a lot of people made enormous amounts of money out from it. The more money you made, the more powerful you became, hence, you became a Big Cheese. Not so smelly anymore, right?
Example: After John got a degree, he moved to Hong Kong and became a big cheese in a large bank.
